

How To Speak Up and Be Heard: Self Advocacy

Community of Practice, Northeast Massachusetts 2014

SELF ADVOCACY IS THE ABILITY TO SPEAK UP FOR YOURSELF AND FOR THE THINGS THAT ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU. AS YOU BECOME OLDER AND TAKE ON MORE RESPONSIBILITIES IN YOUR LIFE, SELF ADVOCACY HELPS YOU:

- ▶ Get what you need
- ▶ Make your own choices
- ▶ Learn how to say no
- ▶ Express your feelings respectfully

Places to Use Self Advocacy

Putting it Into Words

AT WORK OR SCHOOL

- Adjusting your schedule
- Participating in meetings
- Asking for accommodations
- Requesting tutoring
- During a job interview
- Asking for a raise

- AT SCHOOL: E-mail to professor: “I am asking for a week extension for this assignment. I haven’t been feeling well and I fell behind.”
- AT WORK: “I can’t work on Sunday, I have a family commitment. Can I work a different shift instead?”

AT HOME

- Managing finances (bills/ roommates)
- Requesting personal space/time
- Renting an apartment
- Sharing food costs
- In a relationship

- WITH ROOMMATES: “I have class at 8 A.M. Can you stop playing your music by 10 P.M.?”
- ARGUMENT WITH A SIGNIFICANT OTHER: “I need to remove myself from this conversation, could we talk about this later when we are both feeling less angry?”

IN THE COMMUNITY

- Arranging transportation
- Presenting in court
- Making a complaint
- Paying a check

- AT THE BANK: “I don’t understand this statement, can you explain the fees to me?”
- SPLITTING A CHECK: “I’d love to go out to dinner. Can we split the check?”

AT THE DOCTORS OFFICE

- Making an appointment
- Reviewing a treatment or recovery plan
- Requesting a second opinion
- Asking for clarification

- AT THE DOCTOR: “Before we make a final decision, I would like to get a second opinion.”
- MEDICAL APPOINTMENT: “The side effects of this medication are bothering me. Can we discuss other options or choices?”

10 Ways to be Heard

1. Ask questions.
2. Listen! Be interested in what the other person is saying.
3. Think before you speak. People listen when you choose your words carefully.
4. Write down your thoughts and/or rehearse what you will say with a friend or in a mirror.
5. Speak to others in the way you want to be spoken to.
6. Know to whom you are talking. For example, friend, grandparent, or boss and use language and tone that they would find respectful.
7. Know when to stop talking and how to exit a conversation politely.
8. Be willing to compromise and be flexible.
9. Using words like “please” and “thank you” go a long way.
10. Do your research. Find out if what you’re asking for is reasonable.

Questions to Ask Yourself

If you are getting ready to advocate for something you need, think about the questions below. You can review your answers with someone you trust. Role-playing the scenario can also help you to figure out exactly what you want to say and how.

1. What am I advocating for? What do I want?

2. Why is it important?

3. How should I make my request?

4. Who do I need to talk to?

5. Who else will this affect?

6. Is there a compromise or another option?

7. What should I do if my request is denied?
